Laxity in the Punishment of Crime.

Among the causes of the demoralization of society to which we have lately referred, the manner in which criminal justice is administered is one of the most prominent.—If we look at the laws for the punishment of crime, and the penalties which they affix, there is no reason for complaint, but when we come to the administration of those laws in the trial of alleged offenders, we find them in many cases, especially where criminals surrounded by a certain class of influences, are concerned, practically inoperative. It cannot be denied that there is in this country a respect accorded to even meretricious success in politics and money-making which proves more efficacious to relieve criminals who possess it from the legal consequences of their offences than in any of the other great civilized countries of the world. Besides this, the wisest and best laws are of no avail unless they are sustained by public opinion. It can scarcely be asserted, that public sentiment in this country is entirely sound and free from prejudice even on the subject, for example, of capital punishment in any case, and especially of the infliction where the killing has been in avenging injuries to the honor of woman, or where it has been provoked by some great insult or indignity, even though not involving peril of life or limb. In such cases, and in all others where the accused occupies a certain social station, the most frivolous pleas are often used in extenuation of his crime, so as to give the jury some sort of a pretext and palliative where with they can satisfy their consciences so as to render a verdict of acquittal. There is none of that certainty in the administration of justice which is essential to the repression of crime. It is in the State precisely as it is in a family, where the best rules are unavailing unless it is made certain by daily experience that they will be enforced with impartial and unvarying uniformity. And here it may be added, that no influence attaches a people more to their country than the fair and equal administration of justice. It is this which gives to the English people their characteristic tenacity or attachment to England, and is strong enough to overcome the alienating influences of its social distinctions. In the practical operation of the laws in England those who are charged with crime—the peasant and the peer, the rich man and the beggar—stand upon the same footing, and there is a certainty that, if they do not receive the reward of their deeds, it will not be on account of any difference of station.

Two cases have been lately tried in this country, the results of which have suggested these reflections. One of these is the case of General Cole, tried in Albany for the murder of Hiscock, on account of improper intimacy with his wife. A more extraordinary finding than that of the jury in this case was never before heard of in a court of justice. This jury actually found that Cole was perfectly sane the instant before shooting Hiscock, and perfectly sane the instant after; but whether he was sane or not at the exact moment of doing it, the jury was in doubt; and, giving the prisoner the benefit of that doubt, under the instructions of the court, they acquitted him of the charge.

We confess we are not surprised at anything which juries may do, but it is little less than astounding that a judge (one, too, who has, as we learn from the New York journals, a reputation for clear-mindedness, legal learning, solid judgment and grave dignity of demeanor) should actually instruct a jury that if they were not certain whether at the moment of shooting Hiscock, Cole was sane or not, they must give him the benefit of the doubt, notwithstanding they found that he was sane the instant before and the instant after! Such an insult to the common sense of mankind, such an absurd travesty of all justice, such an invitation to crime as has been offered in this case from the very portals of justice, we venture to say, never was heard of before.

The defence of insanity is becoming a common defense where it is difficult to acquit the criminal on any other ground. It was tried in the other case to which we have referred, the hideous case of Deacon Andrews, of Massachusetts, but failed.—Under a law of Massachusetts, however, the prisoner charged with crime is permitted to give testimony in his own case, a law which may possibly forward the interests of justice, though there is room for doubt whether it has had that effect in the present instance. It is claimed that the statement which Deacon Andrews made as a witness, and his manner of making it, produced a deep impression on the jury. At any rate they found a verdict of guilty of manslaughter, and he was sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary. It is difficult to understand how a sentence of that severity could be imposed upon the prisoner, if it was really believed that his story was true, and that he killed his victim in defending himself from such an unspeakable outrage as that which he alleges was attempted. But who can believe such a story? With the will of the murdered man in his possession, leaving to him his property, he satisfies a jury that it was a case of manslaughter! What a curious coincidence that he should have a will from his victim leaving him a large estate, and that his victim should make an incredible attempt upon his person, which drove Andrews into the temporary frenzy that resulted in the death of the tempter, thereby putting the manslayer in possession of property which otherwise might never have been his own!

Unless justice is more wisely and uniformly administered by the courts, unless the rules of common law and common sense prevail in the punishment of crime, lynch-law, it is to be feared, will be encouraged and social anarchy be the ultimate result. It is only lately that, in Missouri, one Carl Engleman cut the throat of his divorced wife from ear to ear, and then cut his own. The murderer, however, recovered, and the mob took him from jail. Engleman confessed his crime, but said, "I was so mad; and when I be's mad, I be's a tiger." Here is the pet plea of "uncontrollable frenzy" and "temporary mental aberration." But Judge Lynch decided that the plea was not valid, and Carl was hung. Probably the mob acted upon the principle that the safety of society demands that "tigers" should die.

A Photographer in Massachusetts was recently visited by a young woman, who, with sweet simplicity, asked, "How long does it take to get a photograph after you leave your measure?"

LIFE INSURANCE.

ÆTNA

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Hds. E. A. BULKELEY, President,
AUSTIN DUNHAM, Vice "
T. O. ENDERS, Secretary.
H. W. StJOHN, Actuary.

SUMMARY OF BUSINESS FOR 1867

Total Assets, over	$10,000,000
Policies Insured in '67,	15,251
Am'nt Insured, nearly	$45,000,000
Policies Average "	3,000
Receipts for 1867,	5,129,447
Surplus for Dividends,	2,000,000

Dividend Fifty per cent.

Receipts for Interest Nearly Paid Its Losses.

It has $130 Assets for every $100 Liabilities.

Its premium receipts at the present time are nearly HALF A MILLION DOLLARS per month and are rapidly increasing.

The growth of the Ætna has never been equaled by any other Company whatsoever, in Europe or America.

Particular attention is called to the fact that while its business is increasing unprecedentedly, its ratio of expenses is comparatively small.

ECONOMY of management, CARE in the selection of risks, promptness in the payment of death claims, and security in the investment of its immense Trust Funds, are rigidly adhered to, and have ever characterized this Company.

The ÆTNA issues all the favorite kinds of Policies at the most favorable rates.

The ÆTNA issued last year more Endowment Insurances than any other Company.

The ÆTNA'S ratio of expenses, or cost of new business is less than any other Company whatsoever, and less than two-thirds of the average.

The ÆTNA is as liberal in permits to travel, in all parts of the world, as a sound discretion will warrant, and is much more liberal than any other prominent Company.

ANNUAL INCOME over $6.000,000.

The Only Company that has the Low Participating Non-forfeitable Term Insurance with privilege of renewal. Ex. of rate at age 30 $14 67, which is nearly 40 per cent. lower than any other leading Company. Also Non-forfeiting cash rates with dividends on contribution plan and payable at the end of the first year.

Description of Policies.

First—Whole Life Policies.

Second—Endowment Policies, for terms of ten, fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty, and thirty-five years.

AGES.

Insurance will be granted at all ages from fifteen to sixty years.

PREMIUMS.

Premiums are payable annually during the continuance of the insurance, or annually during a period of five, ten, fifteen, or twenty years within the insurance term, or by single payment.

DIVIDENDS.

All Whole Life and Endowment Policies issued at the rates published here with will participate in the surplus from the date of issue.

The dividends will be declared and paid annually upon the contribution plan, and may be applied as the assured shall elect, either to reduce future premiums, or to increase the Cash Value of the Policy.

If no election be made the dividends will be added to the Cash Values.

When, by adding the dividends to the Cash Value, the accumulations on any Policy shall have become sufficient to keep the same in force for its full amount, without further payments, the assured may, at his option, either continue payment of premiums and enlarge thereby the annual additions to its Cash Values or discontinue them; and in either case, when the accumulations shall have become equal to the sum insured, the annual dividends on the Policy will be declared as a per centage of said sum, and paid in cash, and upon surrender of said Policy the sum insured thereby will be paid in full, without regard to the time fixed therein for its payment.

The system of applying the dividends is peculiarly advantageous to the assured, securing, at an increased age, not only relief from further payment of premiums, but, at the same time, an annual income until death, unless he shall have previously received full payment of the Policy.

Dividends on paid-up Policies—that is, Policies which require no further payment of premium to continue them in force for the original amount of insurance—will be paid in cash upon demand.

Non-Forfeiture Rules.

No Whole Life or Endowment Policy, on which two or more annual cash premiums have been paid shall be forfeited by failure to make further payment as stipulated therein but will continue in force for the full amount which the Cash Value and dividends, then accumulated, will purchase—taken as a single net premium, upon the "Actuaries" rate of mortality and four per cent. interest; and the amount continued in force will generally exceed the aggregate of the payments actually made, extra charges excepted.

A Most Wonderful and Successful Invention!

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC
CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER
Awarded the highest Testimonial wherever Exhibited.

Rev. M. W. STAPLES, Inventor and Patentee.

THIS BOILER is self-acting, and dispenses entirely with labor and the wear of clothes. The hot suds and steam by the action of fire, are driven up through tubes, pumped upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing it perfectly without any rubbing. It has been thoroughly tested, and pronounced unequalled as a Clothes Washer, by those who have used it.

All fabrics, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket can be washed perfectly and with ease and without the aid of the rubbing-board. For Flannels it is invaluable, as the rubbing, pulling and pressing process must necessarily full them more or less.

It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. Washing will no longer be a hardship, and washing day no longer a terror and a dread to housewives.

The invention can be used in any family, and the low price of the article places it within the reach of every family.

The saving in the wear of clothes will soon pay for the outlay.

It is estimated that 200 to 300 gallons of boiled suds pass through the clothes in thirty minutes; this being the longest time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes.

Hundreds of these boilers are being sold each week, giving perfect satisfaction.

Every Boiler sold guaranteed to do all we claim, or no pay retended.

One Set can be seen in full operation at Lougee & Brother's.

We are selling COUNTY RIGHTS rapidly.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 23, 1868.

STATE OFFICIALS—BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION.

From every portion of the State there rises up complaint, from the people, of incompetency and corruption, on the part of persons ashamed "S ate Officials."

In the Capitol, on the floor of the Senate, Mr. Sweet is heard declaring that he can "locate bribery and corruption,"—that members of the "Legislature had taken dollars and cents for their votes."

When this Senator offers resolutions raising and empowering a Committee to send for persons and papers to flash up and expose the bribery and corruption, he is denounced by certain persons of his party, who throw difficulties in the way of the passage of his resolutions.

Mr Sweet called such members "finger-boards," pointing to the seats of corruption.

After two days the finger-boards are taken in or knocked down.

The finger-boards of the House were seen in the Senate, listening with deep interest to every word Mr. Sweet uttered. One member was heard to call him a "d—d liar," in a voice not loud enough to be heard by the Senator or the presiding officer, but heard at a distance by many in the lobby.

Whether Senator Sweet be able or not to prove the bribery alleged, will not much weaken the force of the conviction that huge corruption exists in the administration of the government. It will not alter the fact, for instance, that the Governor issued a warrant for the Treasurer to pay $266 for the erection of a stand upon which he, Judge Reade and Attorney General Coleman stood, to address a political assembly, composed mostly of ignorant negroes!

We can point to "finger boards," which indicate political corruption in every branch of the government.

To give an illustration: Gov. Holden wrote us a letter, in 1865, which we have never answered or acknowledged in any way. Rev. John A. McJannen, George Lowe, Clerk of Orange Superior Court, H. Guthrie, Sheriff of Orange, Mr. Willard, of the Orange Factory, and Henry N. Brown, of Hillsboro', all brought us messages, in 1865, after this wise: "Gov. Holden wishes to see you. Gov. Holden says by all means come to Raleigh." After these messages had been received, and some of them repeated a second and even a third time, an Orange county man told us: "Gov. Holden prefers you as a spoke in his wheel to any man in the State. He will give you anything you want,—all that he will expect will be silent acquiescence in his administration!"

We said, in reply, that "we were not for sale," and declined going to see the Governor.

Sometime after that, at a public meeting in Oxford, Mr. Robert W. Lassiter, of Penitentiary notoriety, (we mean of location of Penitentiary notoriety,) nominated W. W. Holden for Governor.

About the time of this nomination, a young friend asked us to write Holden to give him a Conductor's place on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad. We told him that our contempt would not admit of it," but, from the way the wind was blowing, that Mr Lassiter would be President of that road, and we would write Judge Gilliam and ask him to speak to Mr. Lassiter for the place. And this we did, without any proof that Mr. Lassiter was to be the President, except the fact that he had nominated Holden for Governor.

We reasoned this way in the matter: Mr L's hostility to Democracy and secession would not admit of his nominating the former High Priest of Democracy and secession for Governor, without compensation. Now Mr. Lassiter may be, like Brutus, "an honorable man," but these things we wrote and spoke before he was made President, and without any intimation from him, Holden or his friends, that he was to be the President. We don't allege that there was any contract in writing between Mr. L and the Governor, viz: you nominate me, and I'll appoint you!

Mr. Jones Watson, of Chapel Hill, was told by a member of the Radical school, that if he would canvass Orange county, as a Republican, he should have an office worth $5,000 a year, whether elected or not. He declined the honor.

We can name other gentlemen, who were bid for in the same way.—some, like our honest friend, Watson, resisting, while others, like our mother Eve, yielded to the tempter.

"Loil Militia."—The following are some of the latest doings of the "loil" militia in Arkansas. We commend the account to "Gov." Holden, and "Major Generals" Willie D. Jones, F. G. Martindale and the red-headed man from Wilkes:

Memphis, Dec. 22.—A Little Rock special to the Avalanche says the militia entered Lewisburg, shooting in every direction.—They burned two stores, shot the proprietor of one and threw him in the flames. The militia still holds the town, allowing none to leave without a pass.

"People of Arkansas—men, women and children, tradesmen, laborers and citizens of all sorts—are flying from—whom? From rebels, negroes, Ku-klux, cut-throats, the outlawed, the lawless? No, but from the militia—a body which is supposed to be authorized and enrolled defenders of life and property, and guardians of peace and order. Quis custodiet ipsos custodes?"

Goldsboro, Dec. 21, 1868.

Editor of Sentinel:—My attention was called, yesterday, to an article which appeared in the Standard, a few days since, headed "Shameful Treatment of Immigrants," in which it is stated "that the Swiss immigrants settled on the Atkinson plantation, near Goldsboro, are in a wretched condition, suffering for raiment and necessaries of life."—that they are "without friends, almost shelterless and compelled to subsist on a miserly ration of corn meal and pork." "One of their number took his last forty dollars and cheerfully spent it to promote the comfort and happiness of his countrymen and women," &c., &c.

I pronounce the statements contained in said article, false. Some of these immigrants have been with my brother (now absent in Switzerland,) and myself, for more than twelve months, and those who have come since did so at the instance and advice of their friends and countrymen, who had been in our employment. I am pleased to say that others are shortly expected to arrive, who come at the instance of their friends now with us, and at their own expense.

I herewith inclose you a statement written by one of the immigrants, signed by a number of them, pronouncing the said article untrue. It is unnecessary for me further to denounce the purposes of the authors of said article. I should be pleased if persons would visit me and see for themselves.

Yours &c.,
THOS. H. ATKINSON.

REPUTATION.

We find, in a late Raleigh paper, a statement concerning the condition of the Swiss immigrants, settled on the plantation of the Messrs. Atkinson, of Wayne and Johnston counties, which, on account of its incorrectness, induces us to the following explanation:

The fact is that we have not been brought to this country by any false promises of our employers, the Messrs. Atkinson. We could not reasonably expect anything else but what we found here, that is the duties and enjoyment of American farm life. We have been located in houses not in the least inferior to any in this vicinity, and equally as good, if not better, as the building occupied by Mr. T. H. Atkinson himself. It is true, that we receive weekly rations of 5 lbs. of pork and one peck of meal, each laborer, but we are furnished with flour, coffee sugar, and other provisions, if we want them. Our wages, which are as high and even higher as any paid by farmers about here, enable us to live quite plentifully, and even to make considerable savings if we are economical. Though the climate and soil, also the manners of the people in this country, are somewhat different from what we have been accustomed to, we are far from being in a suffering condition; we must own, that the gentlemen we work for have done all they could do to accommodate us, and to make our new home pleasant, and acceptable to us. As to the assertion of one of our number having spent forty dollars for the benefit of the others, this is entirely unknown to us.

Stating this according to truth and justice, we want the author of the said article to name himself, and defy him to prove his malevolent assertions.

Anybody that will come here and inform himself, will find them entirely false and incorrect.

ATKINSON'S FARM, Dec. 21, 1868.

[The foregoing statement is signed by twenty five of the Swiss Immigrants, but we omit the names, because, on account of their uncommon character, our compositors would "play havoc" with them. The original, however, may be seen at our office.]

The following is the libel of the Standard:

"SHAMEFUL TREATMENT OF IMMIGRANTS.—We have learned from trustworthy sources that the Swiss immigrants, settled on the Atkinson plantation, near Goldsboro', are in a wretched and deplorable condition, suffering for raiment and necessaries of life. These worthy people, accustomed to their native mountains, to pure air, and to an abundance of food, are at this time without friends, almost shelterless, and compelled to subsist on a miserly ration of corn meal and pork. One of their number took his last forty dollars and cheerfully spent it to promote the comfort and happiness of his countrymen and women. It does seem to us that the benevolent people of Wayne county, who raised money to defray the expenses of Messrs. Atkinson and Traeb to Europe, might have displayed more judgment, at least more humanity, in applying it to the absolute poverty and suffering of the sixty Swiss immigrants already in the county. If these poor people have been swindled and deceived by false promises, it is time the Legislature should look after them."

Now what is the trust worthy source, from which the Standard derived its information with regard to the "swindled Swiss?" Who gave the information?—The Legislature look after them, indeed—"if they have been swindled and deceived by false promises!"

Did not the silent Editor of the Standard "deceive," when he urged the people of the South to "trust in God and Jeff. Davis," and then turned his back upon them?

Did he not "deceive," when he asked, in the Standard, "who would plot for the head of Abe Lincoln?" And when Mudd and Booth plotted and got the head, he attempted to make assassination odious?

Did he not "deceive," when he wrote that letter to Dr. Fisher, charging on the Dr., that some body had said that he (the Dr.) said "he would give $500 for Abe Lincoln's head?" Such a letter is to be found in the Executive office, unless recently destroyed. Let us have the letter, Governor.

The purpose of calling on the Legislature to look after "them," is to create offices and places for party pets.

Let the Legislature look after the Penitentiary swindle! Let the Legislature look after the members of its body, charged with bribery by Senator Sweet! It will thus have enough to do.

A SLAP AT GEN. GRANT.—Mr. Edmunds recently introduced into the Senate a bill which provides that whenever any person in the military service of the United States shall accept any civil office, his military office shall thereupon cease; and whenever any person in the civil service of the United States shall accept any military office, either general or special, his civil office shall cease. No person shall hold or exercise more than one place of trust or profit under the United States at the same time. This bill is understood to be for Gen. Grant's special benefit, and to prevent the appointment of military and naval officers to positions in the Cabinet.

The New York Express thinks "'Murder made easy,' is the doctrine all over the United States at present."

JUVENALIA.

Could JUVENAL have lived in these modern times, and in this country, the vices, follies and extravagances, public and private, national and individual, of the day, would afford as fertile a field for his keen and vigorous satire as he found presenting itself in the reign of Domitian, in the very first century of the Christian era. As it is, in reading over those Satires, which eighteen centuries have not been able to rob of their piquancy and passion, we can easily, by slight paraphrase, fancy them levelled at men and things, crimes and habits, demoralizations and customs, of the present generation of men, living in the full noon-blaze of the 19th century. So true is it that, while the great average of humanity has, of course, greatly improved, under the benign influences of Christianity, the individual and national dead weights that retard the progress of enlightenment and virtue are hardly less clogsome than they were in the dawn of the new Dispensation.

Read what the Essayist says of the age in which Juvenal aimed his shafts, and one cannot fail to be impressed with some points of resemblance, at least, to that in which we live:

"His great aim was to alarm the vicious, and, if possible, to exterminate vice, which had, as it were, acquired a legal establishment. A noble enterprise! but he wrote in a detestable age, when the laws were publicly violated, and the love of their country so completely eradicated from the breasts of his fellow citizens, that, brutified as they were by slavery and voluptuousness, by luxury and avarice, they merited rather the severity of the executioner than the censor.

Meanwhile the empire, shaken to its foundations, was rapidly crumbling to dust. Despotism was consecrated by the Senate; liberty, of which a few were still sensible, was nothing but an unmeaning word for the rest, which, unmeaning as it was, they did not dare to pronounce in public. Men of rank were declared enemies to the State for having praised their equals; historians were condemned to the cross, philosophy was proscribed, and its professors banished. Individuals felt only for their own danger, which they too often averted by accusing others; and there were instances of children who denounced their own parents, and appeared as witness against them! It was not possible to weep for the proscribed, for tears themselves became the object of proscription; and when the tyrant of the day had condemned the accused to banishment or death, the Senate decreed that he should be thanked for it, as for an act of singular favor."

In one of the Satires of Juvenal, as translated by Gifford, which is directed against official corruption and peculation, one may well imagine him a now living observer of events and practices:

"And when the crop of vices more abundant? When were the sails of avarice more widely spread? When had gambling its present spirits? For now men go to the hazard of the gaming table, not simply with their purses, but play with their whole chest staked. What fierce battles will you see there, while the (people) supply the weapons for the combat! * * * * * * But when a magistrate of the highest rank reckons up, at the end of the year, what the sportula brings him in, how much it adds to his revenue, what shall the poor retainers (still the people) do, who look to this for their toga, their shoes, the bread and fire at home? * * * * * * Since at Rome there is no place for honest pursuits, no profit to be got by honest toil, let us leave our native land. Let those continue in it who turn black to white; for whom it is an easy matter to get contracts for building temples, clearing rivers, constructing harbours and cleansing sewers."

The modern Juvenal would add "building Railroads and Penitentiaries!"

In another essay, the Satirist takes off the carpet baggers of his day. He speaks of them thus:

"These fellows, who in former days were horn-blowers, and constant attendants on the municipal ampitheatres, and whose pulfed cheeks were well-known through all the towns, now themselves exhibit gladiatorial shows. It is that the State is become Greek, (Yankee) that I cannot tolerate — One forsaking Sicyon, (Massachusetts,) another Amydon, (Indiana,) a third from Andros, (Connecticut) another from Samos, (Maine) &c., swarm hither with a desperate impudence, a rabid speech, more rapidly fluent even than Iscus. He has brought with him whatever character you wish,—painter, trainer, (Dewecse,) rope dancer, pedagogue, (Pilgrim Ashley,)—what not.—Shall I not shun these men? Shall this fellow take precedence of me, though imported to Rome by the same wind that brought the plums and figs? * * * * Besides, there is nothing that is held sacred by these fellows, or that is safe from their lust."

One might almost fancy, in reading the following, that the great Satirist was describing Parson Pepper, in the act of writing that fulsome sketch of certain Senators, which occupied the columns of the Governor's paper, a few days since. We commend the portrait to the Chaplain:

"Why add that this nation, most deeply versed in flattery, praises the conversation of an ignorant, the face of a hideously ugly friend, and compares some fellow's crane like neck to the brawny shoulders of Hercules, holding Antæus far from his mother earth. Do you smile? He is convulsed with a laugh far more hearty. If he spies a tear in your eye, he bursts into a flood of weeping; though in reality he feels no grief. If at the winter solstice you ask for a little fire, he calls for his thick coat. If you say, I am hot! he breaks into a sweat!"

How Juvenal would have "pitched into" the "Grecian Bend," we may judge from the following lampoon on some of the fashionable follies of his day,—follies not unlike some of those with which the beau monde is even now cursed:

"Another draws out and combs her curls and rolls them into a band. The aged matron assists at the council, who, having served her due period at the needle, now presides over weighing out the tasks of wool. Her opinion will be first taken. Then those who are her inferiors in years and skill will vote in order, as though their mistress' good name or life were at stake. So great is the anxiety of getting beauty! Into so many flers she forms her curls, so many stages high she builds her head; in front you will look upon an Andromache, behind she is a dwarf,—you would imagine her another person. Excuse her, pray, if nature has assigned her but a short back, and if, without the aid of high heeled buskins, she looks shorter than a Pigmy maiden; and must spring lightly up on tiptoe for a kiss. No thought meanwhile about her husband! not a word of her ruinous expenditure! She lives as though she were merely a neighbor of her husband's, and in this respect alone is nearer to him—that she hates her husband's friends and slaves, and makes grievous inroads on his purse."

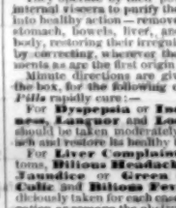
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.



Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have, and can show, thousands upon thousands of certificates of remarkable cures of the most obstinate and hopeless character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health, by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they crumble and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that it is unnecessary to publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

DANIEL AYRES, M. D. LL.D, Med. Examiner.

POLICIES ISSUED AS GOOD AS UNITED STATES BONDS.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in the country which guaranties a definite surrender-value to every Policy on which two or more annual premiums have been paid; this amount, in dollars and cents, is endorsed on every Policy issued. Should any Policy-holder become unable to pay his premiums, he can thus know the cash worth of the Policy at any time after two annual premiums have been paid.

This certainly is the greatest inducement and most tangible advantage ever accorded to parties insuring their lives.

Among the advantages offered by the BROOKLYN, which thoroughly evince the determination of the officers to make it the most LIBERAL Life Insurance Company in the United States are:

1st TOTAL REMOVAL OF ALL RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE. The Assured may travel or reside anywhere they choose, the world over, without extra premium or special permit.

2d. A Loan of one-third of the Premium to the Policy-Holder Annually.

3d. All Policies are non-forfeitable after two full annual premiums have been paid.

4th. Rates as low as are consistent with financial soundness, and less than those of almost all Companies which accommodate their assured with loans.

5th. Dividends annually (after second year) in cash. Dividends are divided on the CONTRIBUTION PLAN—the only equitable manner of dividing the earnings of a Life Insurance Company. The Contribution Plan was first conceived by Mr. D. P. Fackler, now Actuary of this Company and has been adopted by most of the best managed Life Companies in this country.

The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid and now pays to its Policy-holders LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company!

6th. Promptitude in paying losses.

7th. No charge for policy or stamp.

The success which the "BROOKLYN" has achieved, fully exemplified in its rapid and healthful growth, is a convincing proof of the confidence reposed by the public in its soundness, integrity and liberality.

MISCELLANEOUS.

To the People of the Southern States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3, 1868.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirits ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent members men in the Union promptly responded. About opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, was long been wanted by the profession, as no genuine could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with its delicate combination of the aromatic elements, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a market superiority over every other diuretic excellent as a universal, tonic and restorative.

A large satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a comprehensive form, and witnessed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each bottle and cover, the name and date of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with the private seal. No article has ever been sent in this country under the name of schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was therefore, as an trade mark, in the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York during last year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by venting counterfeits from under their banner, that the protection so carefully thrown around these schnapps would have prevented the introduction and sale of counterfeits. They seem, however only to have stimulated the capacity of the operators. The article made at the proprietor two years since; two independent parties which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed to manufacture humbugs; the labels and bottles have been imitated, the advertisements paraphrased, the circulars copied, and, also worse than all, dishonorable relatives, after disposing of the genuine contents of the bottles, have filled them up with common gin, the most contemptible of all liquors, and some have the name and brand a cover for poison.

The public use medical preparation and the sick for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a variety of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequaled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic schnapps in those markets; and travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception in connexion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in Europe, a preparation unexceptionable in purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and from every ordeal the preparation which bears his name, seal and trademark, has come off triumphant. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to his fellow-citizens generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and to expose the charlatans who counterfeit these evidences of identity and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all they are represented to be.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore unobtainable, and, as such, may be safely prescribed by Physicians.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substances had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conviction that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of Gin.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed,) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of "Schiedam Schnapps," which I took from a fresh package in your bonded warehouse and find, as before, that the spirituous liquor is free from injurious ingredients or falsification: that it has the marks of being aged and not recently prepared by mechanical admixture of alcohol and aromatics.

Respectfully
FRED. F. MAYER, Chemist.

NEW YORK, Tuesday, May 1.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq.:—

DEAR SIR:—The want of pure Wines and Liquors for medical purposes has been long felt by the profession and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by the use of adulterated articles. Dreadful tremens, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great degree, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer, your Bottled Wines and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandies and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise,

We remain your obedient servants,
VALENTINE MOTT,

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—It seems that the Radicals of this City are determined to give a party phase to the ensuing Municipal election, which takes place on Monday, January 4th. Ashamed of the man, Whitson, who was nominated at a recent meeting of the negroes, as their Candidate for Mayor, the white Radicals have compelled "Collards" to decline, and it is announced that another meeting will be held to-morro evening, for the purpose of making a new nomination. We record it to their credit, that they are ashamed of Whitson, though we deprecate this attempt to bring politics into our municipal affairs.

Mr. Haywood's former efficiency as Mayor, coupled with the illegitimate and arbitrary manner in which he was deprived of the office, for which the people had chosen him, ought to, and we hope will, secure his triumphant election.

It is of the highest importance that we should have a competent and reputable City government. To that end, we invite our fellow-citizens to throw aside their indifference and to take an active interest in the pending contest. Let them all REGISTER, (but two days are left in which to do so,) and vote for men of character and integrity, who will guard the interests of the City and its tax-payers.

RUMOR hath it that there were some rare scenes among the negroes and scallawags congregated at Republican Headquarters, on Monday night, for the purpose of ruling Whitson off the track for the Mayoralty.—It is even whispered that one of the faithful went so far as to knock the "Reverend" candidate down, while others abused him violently! This is the way they got him to decline. What a delightful set these fellows are, to be sure!

FORTY FIRST SENATORIAL DISTRICT.—A correspondent gives us the gratifying intelligence, in another column, that R. L. Beall, Esq., the Democratic candidate in this District, has been triumphantly elected, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the unlawful exclusion of Maj. Avery. His majority is considerably larger than that given for Seymour and Blair in the District, and in T. R. Caldwell's own county, although he left his official duties to interfere in the election, the Radical majority is greatly reduced. The people of the 41st District have thus signally rebuked the arbitrary and illegitimate action of the Senate in the case of Maj. Avery.

REGISTRATION up to last evening stood: Whites 347, Blacks 312.

REGISTER TO-DAY!

F. OF T.—We are requested to announce that there will be a meeting of Crescent Council, No. 3, at their Hall, this (Wednesday) evening.

A full attendance is earnestly requested, as there will be an election for officers, and other business of importance is to be transacted.

THE LAND WE LOVE.—The January number of this excellent periodical contains its usual variety of interesting matter.

Among the contents we find The Capture of Fort De Russy, The Humors of Sydney Smith, Review of Buchanan's Poems, The Value of Trees, The Valley Manuscript, About Beggars, Noted Churches of Paris, and other readable articles.

The Poetry is by Dr. Tickner, Judge Reguler and Mrs. Downing.

MENARD, the negro member elect to Congress, we learn from the Washington Express, is indignant at the manner in which the Radicals disposed of his case. He was elected only for the residue of the present Congress, which expires on the 4th of March, and he says the reference of his case to the Committee on Elections he regards as equivalent to his rejection, and that he shall so report to his colored constituents in Louisiana. Menard further says that the whole thing was an experiment on his part to test the sincerity of those who were proclaiming negro equality. He could have secured the nomination for the next Congress, but he thought it best to accept an election for the fraction of the present Congress, as a test whether a negro was a "man and a brother." Mr. Sypher, it appears, had agreed to urge his claims to a seat under the rule heretofore observed, that the "broad seal" was prima facie evidence sufficient to seat the holder. But when his credentials were presented, Menard, who was present in the House, had the mortification to see his case go to the Committee on Elections without a word of comment or discussion, as if by a preconcerted arrangement and understanding among the Radicals. Thus ends the first effort of American citizens of African descent to be represented in Congress!

THE CHARLOTTE TRAGEDY.—We learn, by private information from Charlotte, that the City was the scene of a fearful state of excitement on Sunday night. The negroes, on the plea that an attempt was meditated to lynch the murderer of Mr. Gleason, collected in a large body, fully armed, and made the most menacing demonstrations.—The alarm spreading, the Churches were all closed,—the ladies and children rushing to their homes. Where is this awful state of things,—the fruits of Radical rule and reconstruction,—to end?

The Charlotte Democrat says of Mr. Gleason and his murder:

"Mr. Gleason was a native of Norfolk or Portsmouth, Va., but has been a resident of this city for a number of years. He leaves a family and many friends to mourn his sad death. His remains were followed to the grave on Sunday evening by the largest procession we ever saw in Charlotte—composed of Firemen, Masons, and citizens generally.

P. S.—Since writing the above we learn that the testimony before the Coroner's inquest shows the murder to have been unprovoked and most brutal and premeditated. Not a particle of evidence was produced to show that Mr. Gleason assaulted the negro in any way whatever. A colored Policeman and two or three other colored men have been committed to Jail as accomplices in the murder."

THE ELECTION IN THE 41ST SENATORIAL DISTRICT—BRILLIANT DEMOCRATIC VICTORY!

MORGANTON, Dec. 21, 1868.

MR. EDITOR:—The election for Senator in this (the 41st) District, as you are aware, was held on the 17th instant.

Although the writs of election were issued with indecent haste, and the hope was entertained by the Radicals, that the Democrats would not receive notice in time, the result, as far as heard from, is all that could be desired. The Lt. Governor resigned his important trust for a week, and succeeded in gaining 170 votes for Beall over Grant's vote in Burke.

"Squire Bogle" seems to be a pet of "Mars Todd". He nominated him for the third time in a speech to a motley crowd on the evening of his return from Raleigh. Can no one provide a place, in which the State will derive some benefit from the brilliant intellect of Mr Bogle? He certainly deserves a better office than Justice of the Peace. Let the Governor charter a railroad through his carpet-bag friends and make him President. The people have repudiated him three times—first by 70 votes, then by 200, and now probably by over 300 votes. Come to the rescue again, "Mars Todd!"

Dr. Beall did not even hold the position of Corporal in the militia before the war; yet, the leading colored politicians of Burke have already announced, that "Mars Todd ain't gwine to low no rebel to go to de Legislature from dis county."

Please inform Senator Galloway, that Dr. Beall did not "cuss the nigger" on election day. He is a pious man, and abhors profanity. Beall's majority is said to be 353. Yours truly, C.

For the Sentinel.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

MR. EDITOR: The following gentlemen will be voted for as Commissioners of the Western Ward, at the ensuing Municipal election, viz:

ALVIS SORRELL,
ALSEY BEVERS,
J. M. BETTS.

MANY VOTERS.

Raleigh, Dec. 22, 1868.

THE PENITENTIARY YARD.—A gentleman, who is thoroughly acquainted with the eight thousand acres of land which the Legislature committee purchased as a playground for the penitentiary, informs us that the assertion that the land abounds in iron ore is untrue. Our informant states that he has tried to get iron ore out of this same land; and he is confident there is not enough in the whole tract to make handcuffs for the committee who value it so highly.—Wil. Star.

TUNNEL UNDER THE HUDSON.—It is reported that the Erie railway is about to construct a tunnel under the Hudson river, to connect the shores of New Jersey and New York. The plans and specifications of the work have been prepared, and operations, it is anticipated, will be commenced next Spring. The tunnel, it is estimated, will cost about three millions of dollars, and will be completed in two and a half years.

CABINET RUMOR.—The friends of Gen. McClellan say that he will be offered the Secretaryship of War by Grant, because of his admiration for McClellan and his desire to show the country that he is not a partisan.

They still make sorghum up in Bedford, Va., and sell it at fifty cents a gallon. Those folks aren't reconstructed yet.

The World says that Mr. Belmont contributed a hundred thousand dollars or more toward the expenses of the Democracy in the late election.

The jewels of the Duchess de Morny, recently sold at auction in Paris, produced £22,000. Most of the lots realized more than they originally cost.

The temperance men of Illinois have held a State Convention, and resolved to organize a political party opposed to the manufacture and sale of intoxicating drinks.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.—The bill amendatory of the Constitution of the United States, introduced into the Senate by Mr. Creary, of Kentucky, yesterday, provides that the Legislature of each State shall divide the State into as many districts as it is entitled to representatives in Congress, as near as may be of equal limits of population, and of coterminous territory not exceeding three times the average breadth. Upon the failure of any State to make such division Congress shall perform that duty. From each of the districts the qualified voters biennially elect a representative and quadrennially an elector of President and Vice President, except that, when a State has not more than two representatives the whole State shall be an electoral district, and its qualified voters shall elect all its electors. The electors of all States entitled to more than two representatives, when met to give their votes, shall appoint two additional electors for that State. The Legislature of each State shall designate a Board from its officers for receiving and deciding upon the returns in the election of electors; also to decide a contested election, with power to order a new election and to determine a tie vote by lot. Upon the failure of any State to provide such a Board, Congress shall perform that duty. The election of electors shall be held in every State on the first Tuesday in October next preceding the end of every four year Presidential term, and the electors then chosen shall hold their offices until the election of electors four years thereafter. When no candidate receives a majority of the votes given in any election for President or Vice President, the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall, under the direction of the House, immediately proclaim the fact, and appoint a time, between thirty and forty days, for the reassembling of the electors in their respective States, and voting for President or Vice President or both if the occasion require, from among the three who received the largest number of votes at the previous election. If again no one receives a majority of the votes given, the election shall in like manner be referred to the electors to decide which of the two so receiving the largest number of votes shall have the office. Should there be a tie vote at any voting by the electors, it shall be decided, when necessary, by lot, in the presence of the House, under the supervision of the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, or such of them as are not either of the contesting candidates. Congress shall meet on the second Monday of November, next preceding the expiring of any Presidential term, or on the fifth Monday next succeeding any special Presidential election, and within the first three weeks of its session act on the returns of the votes of the electors. Upon every vacancy in the office of President and Vice President when there remains more than two years of the then unexpired term, the officer performing the duties of the Presidential office shall immediately appoint a day by proclamation, between thirty and forty days thereafter, for the assembling of the electors in the different States. The electors so met shall vote for President and Vice President, to fill those offices for the residue of the term. Upon the failure of such officer to order the special election it shall be ordered by the Chief Justice, or, in his absence, the senior Justice of the Supreme Court.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. World.

MORE OF CUSTAR AND BLACK KETTLE.—Conversation with the military men now in Chicago—we mean those in active service—goes far toward proving that the late attack upon Black Kettle by Custar was nothing but an unwarranted massacre, pure and simple. In an exchange of views with an officer on Gen. Grant's staff, on Monday evening, the writer was enlightened, in substance, as follows: "There is a strong feeling among military men, at Washington, that Custar has made a serious mistake; and that his attack is simply a repetition of the Chivington affair. Col. Wynkoop is a man who is thoroughly reliable, and his assertion of the pacific character of Black Kettle and his band can be relied on. His statement, in this respect, is indorsed by Gen. Palmer, who is thoroughly familiar with matters on the plains. I think that Gen. Custar was, in a measure, forced into making the attack. After marching the long distance that he did, his men probably demanded and would have blood."

This opinion is undoubtedly that of Gen. Grant; and it most assuredly is that of Gen. Sherman, whose quick clear brain readily distinguishes between right and wrong, and which cannot be misled by the glowing accounts of Sheridan, or those of his subordinate, Custar.

It will be some satisfaction to the public to know that there is a clear appreciation of this affair on the part of our leading military men. It would be a good deal more satisfactory could the public know that the unwarranted atrocity of the occurrence would operate to prevent its repetition. But one can scarcely entertain any such hope. The Chivington horror produced some few outbursts of disgust and condemnation throughout the country, but we do not see that it resulted in any permanently good effects. Chivington, the butcher, became a demi-god on the frontiers. The same sort of apotheosis awaits Custar and Sheridan. The deeper one dips his hands in Indian blood, the more women and children he can exterminate, the grander is his character in a predominant species of brutality and ruffianism that holds place and influences public opinion on the frontiers.—Chicago Times.

THE AGE OF BRIBERY.—Judging from the Erie railroad war and other corrupt schemes for plundering the people, the age of bribery has come.—Raleigh Standard.

Yes, and we fear it has come to many members of the North Carolina Legislature. Senator Sweet says he can prove that votes were bought for dollars and cents. Every honest man in the State ought to help to expose the scoundrels who are cheating and swindling the State. Attempts were made to injure Mr. Sweet on account of his bold stand against corruption, and even the Standard, we regret to say, tried to ridicule that gentleman and lower him in the estimation of his party. But we hope the Standard has discovered its error, and will now co-operate in ferretting out the rascality practiced by members of the Legislature and public officers. Let it stop sneering at those who demand investigation.

The people believe that gross corruption prevails at Raleigh, and, whether the evidence can be procured or not to convict the guilty, the impression will remain that the appropriation schemes have been secured by bribery.—Charlotte Democrat.

The Governor of Iowa, by proclamation, declares that the word "white" has been stricken from the Constitution of that State.

"There need be no apprehensions about the payment of the national debt, for Congress has evidently more money than it knows what to do with. This is manifest from the unanimity with which a resolution to print 30,000 copies of the eulogies of the late Mr. Stevens was approvingly referred to-day to the committee on printing. Pending the delivery of the eulogies yesterday, some wag started the report that a member who is a believer in spiritualism put himself in communication with the spirit of the deceased statesman, and asked Mr. Stevens who he would like to have to deliver his eulogy. The spirit of Mr. Stevens replied, "I don't care a d—n who delivers it, so you don't compel me to listen to him." Even skeptics admitted that this remark proved that Mr. Stevens was present in spirit, but it might be suggested now, that if another interview were sought, and Mr. Stevens's spirit were asked about the printing of his eulogies, he would no doubt express a wish that the money might be used to pay government clerks an adequate compensation, instead of being expended in the proposed direction.—*Wash. SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

PURELY A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION.

PRINCIPAL OFFICES:
Atlanta, Georgia; Memphis, Tennessee; Louisville, Kentucky.

CAPITAL STOCK, $228,500.

Nett Assets of the Company, July 1st, 1868, $330,949.94.

Insures lives, and promptly adjusts and pays losses. Its principal business is with Southern States, and to them it appeals for patronage. It has ample means to fully protect Policy holders and pay all losses.

The "Southern" combines the advantage of both note and cash system, stock and mutual—such as choose to pay cash may do so and secure a non-forfeitable policy and all the advantages of a Cash Company. The privilege of a permanent loan for one-third is granted to all who desire it.

It makes investments at home in good and reliable securities, thereby tending to make money more plenty in our midst, and to aid in developing the resources of our section, and to stop the annual drain of over Six Million dollars, which are being sent North for Life Insurance.

Its profits are equitably distributed among Policy holders and Stockholders.

In its organization are presented men of experience in Life Insurance and their aim will be to make the "Southern Life" the exponent of the business, enterprise and progress of the present day.

DEATH-BED CONFESSION OF A GREAT CRIME.—The New Orleans Picayune relates that some years ago a respectable young man, the only support of a widowed mother and a sister, was clerk in a dry goods store in that city. He frequently assisted the cashier, and one day a forged note on the firm for $400, in the handwriting of the young man, was presented at the bank by an unknown person and paid. The young man admitted drawing the check, but had no recollection of the circumstances, and could give no explanation. He was arrested, tried and convicted. His mother and sister alone believed in his innocence. Bowed down with shame, and unable to vindicate his honor, he died shortly after. In less than a year the bereaved mother died also, and the sister was left to struggle alone for a living, which she obtained by becoming a seamstress. A few days ago a lawyer was called to write the will of a man at the point of death. In this will he bequeathed his property to the sister, and embodied in the instrument a full confession of the forgery committed eight years ago. He was the cashier of the firm, now grown rich. It was by his direction the draft was prepared. Now after the lapse of eight years a tardy reparation is attempted to be made. But it will not restore life to the dead, or extract the bitter sting of sorrow and grief so long endured. It is one of the strange events which make up the story of life.

EXPRESSION IN THE EYEBROWS.—The eyebrows are a part of the face comparatively but little noticed, though in discovering the real sentiments of the mind scarcely any other features of the face can come into competition. In vain the most prudent female imposes silence on her tongue; in vain she tries to compose her face and eyes; a single movement of the eyebrows instantly discloses what is passing in her soul.—Placed upon the arch, and attached to muscles which move them in every direction, the eyebrows are obedient, in consequence of their extreme mobility, to the slightest internal impulse. Their majesty, pride, vanity, severity, kindness, the chill and ghostly gesture, and the position sad and gay, are alternately depicted. "The eyebrows alone," said Lavater, the prince of physiognomists, "often give the positive expression of the character." "Part of the soul," says Pliny the elder, "resides in the eyebrows, which move at the command of will." Le Brun, in his treatise on the passions, says "that the eyebrows are the least equivocal interpreters of the emotions of the heart and of the affections of the soul."

Thousands of persons are in New York today without money or friends. The city is overcrowded by persons from the country and from distant places, who come here with the vain hope of immediately dropping into lucrative positions. It is the old story—misery, disappointment, and appeals to charity for salvation. It seems to be useless to warn adventurers of the lack of employment here, and ask them to stay where they are getting a living. They will come, and they must suffer. And it seems to be equally useless to urge them to leave the city as soon as possible, and search for occupation where there is less competition. They prefer to remain in the metropolis under any circumstances, so that life be spared them, and this is an injustice to themselves and to the citizens generally.

A pleasant story is told of a gentleman who beat his wife and was inconsolable. A few days after her death he was invited to go out on a shooting expedition. "My grief is too fresh," he replied; "she has only been dead eight days." "But we must all die," replied his friend. A short pause.—"How early shall you start?" "Six o'clock in the morning. Will you go?" "Yes, I will join you, but I will not shoot."

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that fundamental instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph, will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable
